GRIFFIS PRIZE

For Best Undergraduate Term Papers on Asia
Written During the Academic Year 2007-2008

Papers submitted for consideration should be in English, deal with an Asia-related topic, range between 15 and 20 pages (exclusive of title page, notes, and list of references; Times Roman, 12 point, double-spaced, 1" side and top margins) and employ a consistent style of documentation (Chicago, MLA, APA). Only papers written for a regular one-semester course can be accepted.

The Griffis essay competition is named after the distinguished Rutgers alumnus William Elliot Griffis (1843-1928), a pioneer in Japanese studies and international education. Griffis's interest in Japan dates back to his student days at Rutgers when he tutored and befriended Kusakabe Taro who was among the first Japanese students to study at an American university. Griffis's The Mikado's Empire (1876) remained for a long time the standard work on the early modernization of Japan. For more detailed information on Griffis and the Griffis Collection, see <http://www.libraries.rutgers.edu/rul/libs/scua/griffis/griff.shtml>.
